

Vandal Glass - Yelp.com (Twisty)

Sunday, 27 July 2008

A second review from Robyn Z who posted this on Yelp.com -

Twisty is my second masterwork from the talented artisans at Vandal Glass received with the same giddy, school girl eagerness as my Maiden. Twisty has a larger tapered head, a big deep-blue knob on the gripping end and a swirl of gorgeous sparkly Cerulean blue glass wrap to provide extra sensation and visual appreciation. I've more work yet to do with Twisty to see if it can compete with the superior shiatsu-like capabilities of the Maiden but I've never been a quitter. I'll keep working it till satisfied one way or the other. That's just the way I am...call me the Orgasmenator. It's hard though...I mean, they're just so beautiful, I want to mount them on the living room wall for all to enjoy. But friends would justifiably think I've gone further off the deep end...my surf pals are already wondering why I'm not surfing as much while I try convincing them I'm just getting cultural stimulation. But they'll never understand...with them, it's always surf, surf, surf. They couldn't care less about art while I love all three activities.